

CMA objects to Google's ad tech practices in bid to help UK advertisers and publishers

Statement of objections sets out how Google may have broken competition law by using its dominance to favour its own ad tech services in open-display advertising.