

Cold-calling sales company shut down after targeting pensioners

Company sold unnecessary service plans to vulnerable customers and told them they would be charged if they cancelled