

Committee on Standards in Public Life announces review of electoral regulation

The independent Committee on Standards in Public Life has today announced a review of the regulation of elections.