

Companies House to resume compulsory strike off process

From tomorrow, we'll begin striking off companies that we believe are no longer in business or operation.