

Construction of the country's largest fish pass completed

Nottingham's Colwick Country Park is now home to the largest fish pass in the country thanks to the completion of the Environment Agency's £12m project.