

Convicted child sex offender worked illegally as security guard

A man deemed a child sex offender has been given a suspended sentence after lying about his offences to work as a security guard in Cardiff.