

Court winds-up Manchester firm offering unlicensed insolvency practitioner services

Manchester-based company believed to be offering insolvency practitioner services when it was not authorised to do so is wound-up in court.