

COVID-19 study finds lower prevalence in schools

A coronavirus (COVID-19) study has found that prevalence of the virus was lower in schools in June 2021 than in the autumn term 2020.