

Crown court comes to college: recycling project inspires legal careers

An innovative recycling project has helped to create a new mock courtroom allowing law students to get a taste of the Crown court.