News story

The Defence and Security Accelerator (DASA) will participate in the first online DPRTE event.

Experts from DASA will be attending the Defence Procurement, Research, Technology and Exportability (DPRTE) event, which is officially supported by the Ministry of Defence (MOD) and held on 3 September 2020. This year the defence procurement and supply chain event will be entirely online and DASA will have a virtual stand in the Technology and Innovation Zone.

At the virtual stand, suppliers, buyers and those in government will be able to find out more about DASA and talk to representatives about how to work with us.

DASA will also be showcasing its recent innovation success, including how it has fast-tracked 245 innovations and invested £42.8 million in industry and academia over the past 12 months, as set out in DASA's recently launched third annual review.

Peter Wilkins, Innovation Partner, DASA will be giving a presentation at 11:10–11:35 entitled 'Innovation for a safer future'. More information can be found in the DPRTE pre-event planner.

We look forward to seeing you there.
