

David Goldstone CBE appointed as independent Chair of the Office for Value for Money

Office for Value for Money will place value for money at the heart of government spending decisions.