

Defence secures largest investment since the Cold War

The Prime Minister has announced the biggest investment in the UK's Armed Forces since the end of the Cold War, confirming an injection of £16.5 billion over four years.