

Defra considers potential new fund in drive to maximise value from R&D and innovation spending on agriculture and nature

Experts can now apply to advise Defra on new ways to finance innovation and achieve a return on investment, including the possibility of a dedicated fund