

Demolition under way for new town centre development

Catterick's new £21 million town centre development has taken a major step forward with demolition of existing buildings on the site now under way.