

Department for Education establishes Science Advisory Council

New team of experts to provide the latest scientific advice across a range of specialisms to support the department's work.