

Designated spots to set up street counters for non-profit making activities available online

Information about designated spots available for application for setting up street counters to hold non-profit making activities across the territory have been uploaded onto the GeoInfo Map (www.map.gov.hk) today (August 21).

A spokesperson for the Lands Department (LandsD) said organisers can check the designated spots available for application for setting up street counters to hold non-profit making activities by temporary occupation of Government land in various districts by browsing the GeoInfo Map. To facilitate submission of applications, the guidelines on holding relevant activities, together with application details, can be viewed at the LandsD's website (www.landsd.gov.hk/en/legco/publications.htm).

The LandsD will update the website information as appropriate in view of the latest position.
