

Diabetes staff and charities celebrated at Downing Street reception

Prime Minister Theresa May welcomed guests from diabetes charities and the NHS to thank them for their work to support and help those living with the condition.