

Disqualified demolition director loses High Court bid to stay in role

The High Court has refused an application by a director to remain in post after being disqualified by the CMA for his role in an illegal demolition cartel.