

Dstl forecasts future quantum landscape for UK defence and security

Embracing quantum technology now could lead to the enhanced pace, precision and pre-emption of decision making by military commanders