

Dundee Botanic Garden event today #dundeewestend

From the Friends of the University of Dundee Botanic Garden :

The next event arranged by the Friends committee is today – Sunday 5th November – at 2pm in the Education Centre.

Dr Alan Barclay, who can occasionally be seen ringing birds in the Garden, will give a talk on birds and bird ringing.

This event is free to members of the Friends, but guests are welcome and are invited to make a donation.
