

Education Secretary addresses Centre for Social Justice

Gavin Williamson speaks about the importance of family in levelling up outcomes and opportunities for young people