

Education Secretary meets competitors preparing for WorldSkills

Students and apprentices from across the UK will head to Russia to compete against 65 nations in a range of specialist skills