

Electrician who fraudulently secured Covid loans to pay-off personal debts ordered to repay £56,000 or go to jail

The two loans, worth a combined £100,000, should only have been used for the benefit of his business.