

English National Opera says thank you to our staff with virtual Christmas carols

The English National Opera (ENO) has given our staff a special boost this Christmas with the singing of carols to help spread some festive cheer.