

Environment Agency urges caution as risk of flooding continues following Storm Ciara

Following the severe weather brought by Storm Ciara over the weekend, the Environment Agency is advising communities to remain vigilant and stay safe over the coming days.