

Environment Agency completes third phase of vital Ouse Washes work

The third year of work to raise the banks of the Ouse Washes Flood Storage Reservoir has been completed by the Environment Agency.

Action cameras help teams to inspect hard-to-reach structures

Environment Agency staff have been making good use of waterproof action cameras as they inspect hard-to-reach culverts and flood gates across East Anglia.

The new normal: leadership in the climate crisis

Emma Howard Boyd, Chair of the Environment Agency and UK Commissioner to the Global Commission on Adaptation.

Partnership project urges anglers to help protect the River Stour

The new online scheme for anglers collects information on fish species and health, and creates a picture of water quality and habitat condition.

Remember remember bonfire night but make it legal and safe

Make sure what you burn is both legal and safe and spare a thought for wildlife.