

Study raises concerns about harbour seal populations

New research attributing the deaths of several seals in Scotland to attacks by grey seals has raised concerns about the impact that predation could have on seal populations.

Seal deaths blamed on attacks by other animals

A study led by SRUC has attributed the deaths of two harbour seals and a grey seal to attacks by other animals, with grey seals the most likely aggressor.

Luton flood storage area to reduce risk to 600 properties

Works will see creation of 'green corridor' benefiting people and wildlife.

Statistical data set: Animal feed prices

Series of straights and compound animal feed prices across Great Britain.

Statistical data set: Livestock prices, finished and store

Average prices for cattle, sheep and pigs sold at store and finished auction markets in Great Britain.