

Farmers urged to consider importance of biosecurity in cattle housing

Biosecurity is a key consideration when it comes to housing beef cattle.

Graduates continue heritage of successful careers

From a visitor centre manager on the “Queen of the Hebrides” to a surveyor with a leading environmental consultancy.

Neilson rates highest to claim first Young Farmer crown

The inaugural Young Farmer of the Year award turned out to be a six-way battle of SRUC alumni.

How we stole the Royal Highland Show

More than 2,200 visitors “tasted greatness” as the Scotland’s Rural College mobile sensory lab made its debut at this year’s Royal Highland Show.

Minister meets young apprentices

Scotland’s Minister for Employability and Training has welcomed a new partnership between SRUC and East Lothian Council that will give secondary school pupils the chance to work in SRUC's laboratories