

Making a Difference

A new publication showcasing the world-leading research of Scotland's Rural College is available online.

Crop studies receive £100k funding from Mains of Loirston Trust

A study to help farmers protect their barley against Ramularia Leaf Spot is among four SRUC projects to benefit from a total of almost £100k in new grants from the Mains of Loirston Charitable Trust.

Crop studies receive £100k funding from Mains of Loirston Trust

A study to help farmers protect their barley against Ramularia Leaf Spot is among four SRUC projects to benefit from a total of almost £100k in new grants from the Mains of Loirston Charitable Trust.

Alumni play major role at Oxford Farming Conference debate

Scotland's Rural College will have a strong presence at The Oxford Farming Conference (OFC) debate at this year's Royal Highland Show.

Dr Jet Mars – Moredun Seminar

Dr Jet Mars of the Dutch Animal Health Service, Deventer will be giving a presentation entitled Monitoring Cattle Health for Farmers, Industry and Government, the perspective from the Netherlands.