

High level of engagement with new strategy

SRUC is delighted with the level of engagement with staff, students and stakeholders since the launch of the new strategy document on 19 April.

---

Scottish killer whale contained one of the highest concentrations of PCB pollutants ever recorded in marine mammals

The Scottish Marine Animal Stranding Scheme, managed by SRUC, has found that a killer whale found dead on Tiree had one of the highest levels of polychlorinated biphenyl (PCB) pollution ever recorded.

---

Scottish killer whale most contaminated on the planet

The Scottish Marine Animal Stranding Scheme, managed by SRUC, has found that a killer whale found dead on Tiree had one of the highest levels of polychlorinated biphenyl (PCB) pollution ever recorded.

---

SRUC course receives top animal welfare award

A leading SRUC course in animal welfare education has been recognised for its contribution in driving innovation in animal welfare for more than quarter of a century.

---

SRUC researchers work on new £8.6m greenhouse gas programme

SRUC researchers are co-investigators on a new £8.6 m research programme to investigate ways to remove greenhouse gases from the atmosphere to counteract global warming.