

Skirts and sea lice

Research into sea lice management measures used on Scottish salmon farms has found the use of in-feed and skirts to prevent the parasites entering pens are the most cost-effective.

Prospects for recovering economy far from rosy

Economists at Scotland's Rural College (SRUC) have called for targeted support for those sectors most in peril following the end of the job retention and self-employment support schemes.

Making the natural choice

A new webinar series looking at the 'wicked challenges' facing the planet has been launched by Scotland's Rural College (SRUC).

SRUC researcher scoops royal accolade

An SRUC researcher instrumental in driving forward the genetic development of UK dairy cattle has been awarded the prestigious Princess Royal Award.

New antibiotics usage survey seeks sheep farmers' views

Farmers and vets are being asked to take part in a survey which aims to establish the amount of antibiotics used in the Scottish sheep industry.