

EPD convictions in October

Eighty-three convictions were recorded in October 2018 for breaches of legislation enforced by the Environmental Protection Department (EPD).

Ten of the convictions were under the Air Pollution Control Ordinance, one was under the Hazardous Chemicals Control Ordinance, fifteen were under the Noise Control Ordinance, and 57 were under the Waste Disposal Ordinance.

The heaviest fine in October was $30,000, assessed against a company which used powered mechanical equipment otherwise than in accordance with permit conditions.
