

EPD responds to application of judicial review by member of public on EIA report for San Tin/Lok Ma Chau Development Node â€‹The Environmental Protection Department has not received the formal notice of the judicial review application. The department will study the content of the application in detail and handle the judicial review application in strict accordance with statutory procedures. It would be inappropriate for the department to make further comments at this stage.