

FRA joins the the Plenary Session of the International Holocaust Remembrance Alliance

Delegates shared examples of how countries have implemented IHRA's 2019 recommendation for teaching and learning about the Holocaust.

The global task force against Holocaust denial and distortion, has started with expert consultations, and the proposals for recommendations will be discussed at the next IHRA meeting. The meeting also discussed the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic and a proposal for an IHRA working definition on anti-Roma racism.

The next IHRA Plenary Session will take place on 30 November – 3 December 2020 in Leipzig.

Council of Europe-FRA-ENNHRI-EQUINET discussing social and economic rights in the context of COVID-19 crisis

They discussed their impact on equality and human rights and the role of national human rights institutions and national equality bodies in the ongoing recovery efforts.

FRA brought to the discussion the evidence collected for and published in its bulletins on the fundamental rights implications of COVID-19 with a focus on social rights.

FRA discusses the rights of old people in the age of digitalization at the Council Working Party on Social

Questions

The Working Party discussed a draft of Council Conclusions suggested by the German Presidency on the rights and well-being of older persons in the age of digitalisation.

FRA presented its work in this area, referring to the rights-based approach to ageing and the bulletins on the fundamental rights implications of COVID-19.

FRA presents the results of its LGBTI survey to the LIBE committee

FRA's 2019 LGBTI survey is the largest survey on discrimination, violence and hate crimes against LGBTI people ever done worldwide.

The results show that even though more lesbian, gay, bisexual, trans and intersex people are now open about who they are, fear, violence and discrimination remain high.

The findings presented to the LIBE Committee should drive policy measures to further protect and promote the rights of LGBTI people.

Press release – Rule of law in Poland: “overwhelming evidence” of breaches

The EP Civil Liberties, Justice and Home Affairs Committee approved on Thursday the draft interim report by chair Juan Fernando López Aguilar (S&D, ES) with 52 votes for, 15 against and no abstentions, as amended at Tuesday's voting session.

The text focuses on the continuing deterioration of the situation in Poland as regards the functioning of the legislative and electoral system, the independence of the judiciary and the rights of judges, and the protection of fundamental rights. It "calls on the Council and the Commission to refrain from narrowly interpreting the principle of the rule of law, and to use the procedure under Article 7\(1\) TEU to its full potential [...] for all the principles enshrined in Article 2 TEU, including democracy and fundamental rights". Noting that the last hearing in the Council "was held as long ago as December 2018", it urges the Council "to finally act [...] by finding that there is a clear risk of a serious breach by the Republic of Poland of the values referred to in Article 2 TEU, in the light of overwhelming evidence thereof".

Read more about the contents of the report here.

You can watch recordings of the debates on the report here and on the vote on the amendments here.

Quote

After the vote, the rapporteur Mr López Aguilar said: "In view of recurring allegations by PiS and the Polish authorities that they are facing double standards, this report concludes that there is no comparable case in Europe – other than Hungary, which is also subject to an ongoing Article 7 procedure. Over a period of just five years, the ruling majority has produced a cascade of acts using expedited parliamentary procedures, with no concessions to parliamentary opposition nor to any minority, severely affecting rule of law values. Furthermore, no other government is facing four infringement procedures for ignoring CJEU rulings. Abiding by EU law is what being a Member State is all about."

Next steps

The interim report is scheduled to be debated and voted on in plenary in September 2020.

Background

According to Article 7 of the Treaty of the EU, the Council may determine that there is a clear risk of a serious breach of EU values. Before doing so, ministers shall hear the views of the national authorities. The Polish authorities have presented their position in front of the Council on three occasions, between June and December 2018.

At a later stage, the European Council may determine, by unanimity and with the Parliament's consent, that there is a serious and persistent breach of the rule of law, democracy and fundamental rights. This could eventually lead to sanctions, including suspension of voting rights in the Council.