The European Parliament opened the plenary session of Wednesday 29 January with a solemn ceremony in memory of the six million victims of the Holocaust.

Opening the ceremony, President David Sassoli said: “Nazism and racism are not opinions, but crimes. Whenever we read in newspaper articles of acts of violence, attacks, or racist insults, we must consider these attacks addressed at each of us. They are attacks on Europe and on the values it represents.”

In her speech, Liliana Segre, Italian senator for life and survivor of Auschwitz, said: “I am extremely moved to be here in the European Parliament. I saw all of the coloured flags at the entrance of so many countries that are here together in a spirit of brotherhood where people speak to each other and look at each other. This wasn’t always the case.”

In her closing address Ursula von der Leyen, President of the European Commission, said: “Europe will not remain silent. We will fight antisemitism at all levels. We will never allow the Holocaust to be denied. We will fight with all our strengths against discrimination, racism and exclusion.”

Following the speeches, members observed a minute of silence. Anita Lasker-Wallfisch, surviving member of the Women’s orchestra in Auschwitz, also attended the ceremony.

International Holocaust Remembrance Day is commemorated on 27 January to mark the anniversary of the liberation of the Auschwitz camp in 1945. The term Holocaust refers to the mass murder of six million Jews by the Nazi regime and its collaborators.

Commander General of Italian Guardia di Finanza visits Eurojust

The Hague, 29 January 2020

Commander General of the Italian Guardia di Finanza, Mr Giuseppe Zafarana, discussed existing and future cooperation with Eurojust today, during a visit to The Hague. With an increasing number of economic crime-related cases, such as carousel fraud (MTCF), being opened at Eurojust, the aim of Mr Zafarana's visit was to strengthen the collaboration between the Italian authorities and judicial systems across the European Union.

Mr Zafarana, who took office in 2019 as the highest in command at the Guardia di Finanza, met with Eurojust's President Mr Ladislav Harman and Vice-President and National Member for Italy Mr Filippo Spiezia, and the Agency's entire Italian desk. The Italian Ambassador to the Netherlands Mr Andrea Perugini participated in the visit as well.

The Commander General was introduced to the operational achievements of Eurojust and multiple services made available to national authorities through Eurojust's recently reinforced legal framework (1727/2018 regulation). General Zafarana's visit was the first of its kind made by a Commander General of the Guardia di Finanza to Eurojust.

Over the past years, there has been a strong increase in economic crime-related cases reported to Eurojust. The Guardia di Finanza has been actively involved in over half of the cases opened by the Italian desk at Eurojust, concerning for instance customs and VAT-fraud or drug trade and smuggling. Financial crime is often linked to other types of criminal activity, as it regularly serves money laundering purposes.

The Guardia di Finanza is one of three major national law enforcement agencies in Italy. It falls directly under the Ministry of Economy and Finance and is the primary police agency for patrolling Italy's territorial waters, border and customs control, and for tackling financial criminality.
