

Events and grants to help Britain's businesses and researchers reach the horizon from UK's association with £80 billion research programme

A raft of plans have been announced to drive up UK participation in Horizon Europe to support researchers, innovators and businesses from across the country.