

Excavation starts on final tunnels at world's first spent fuel disposal facility

Finland will become the first country to operate a geological disposal facility for spent nuclear fuel