

Export fund which has launched the overseas careers of Mercury Prize winners given fresh government backing

The UK's creative industries will be able to seize future opportunities and drive investment in the UK, thanks to new export funding.