

Farmer receives suspended prison sentence for pollution incidents

A Leicestershire farmer has been successfully prosecuted for polluting his fields and neighbouring land and for failing to comply with environmental permits.