

Farmers advised to take steps to combat late spring

Scottish farmers are being advised to take steps and plan fodder usage now, with experts predicting a late spring.