

FEHD releases ballot results of applications for rental of cooked food stalls in Skylight Market

The Food and Environmental Hygiene Department (FEHD) today (January 3) conducted open balloting for the applications for rental of cooked food stalls in the FEHD Skylight Market in Tin Shui Wai, and the ballot results have been released.

A spokesman for the FEHD said, "Rental of four cooked food stalls in Skylight Market was open for application. A total of 90 eligible applications were received. Ballots were drawn today to determine the order of priority of eligible applicants in selecting a cooked food stall for rental."

The ballot results have been uploaded to the FEHD website (www.fehd.gov.hk) for viewing by applicants. Applicants can also visit the Yuen Long District Environmental Hygiene Office from tomorrow (January 4) or call the hotline 2475 3433 to check the results. The FEHD will also notify all eligible applicants by SMS and mail of their priority number and later issue letters to invite successful applicants for cooked food stall selection and signing of the Licence Agreement according to their priority.
