

Fewer than 1 in 5 university students had COVID-19 by end of autumn term

A study conducted by Public Health England (PHE) estimates that 17.8% of university students in England had COVID-19 antibodies.