

First recipients of 'Elizabeth Emblem' announced to commemorate public servants who died in line of duty

First ever recipients of the Elizabeth Emblem named, recognising police officers, firefighters and other public servants who died in the line of duty.