

Flood risk continues with heavy rain and high tides expected

The Environment Agency reminds communities to check their flood risk and remain prepared to take action if needed.