

Foreign Secretary commits to more effective and accountable aid spending under new Foreign, Commonwealth and Development Office

Independent Commission for Aid Impact (ICAI) will continue to scrutinise aid spending following the Foreign Office and the Department for International Development merger next week