

Free workshops to help support food and drink businesses in the West

Small and medium sized food and drink businesses in the West can access free support and advice at workshops provided by the Scottish Government's food and drink advisory service – Connect Local.