

Getting comfortable for competition

Paralympians suffer injuries just like their able-bodied counterparts, so the Hong Kong Research Institute of Textiles and Apparel has developed a high-performance wheelchair cushion for boccia players.

News.gov.hk interviewed the cushion's developers and users to see how it allows athletes to perform better.

The story appears on news.gov.hk today (June 17) in text and video format.