

Government action to tackle the 'greatest employment challenge for a generation'

Spiralling economic inactivity to be addressed as new Labour Market Advisory Board launched to advise Government on getting Britain working again.