

Government announces 10 councils to test the use of digital tools in planning process

The Housing Minister has announced a £1.1 million fund to test the use of digital tools and data standards across 10 local areas.