

Government announces £300 million Sport Winter Survival Package to help spectator sports in England

Major spectator sports in England will receive a combined £300 million cash injection to protect their immediate futures over the winter period, the Government has announced.